

ALL ROADS LEAD TO NASHVILLE FROM WEDNESDAY, JUNE 9TH, TO MONDAY, JUNE 14TH.

THE OCCASION IS THE MEETING OF THE GREAT

Sunday-School Congress and B. Y. P. U. Chautauqua

WHICH WILL BE IN

Session in Tennessee's Capital for Six Days

Every religious worker, missionary, educator, or B. Y. P. U. worker is cordially invited to attend this meeting. Every person who is anxious to take advantage of the extremely low rates over all the railroads on this occasion, is also invited to attend this meeting. Nothing in the history of the state of Tennessee, and nothing in the history of the nation, as far as young people's gatherings are concerned, has ever equalled either in point of attendance, importance, or real good accomplished for the people, that this Congress Movement promises. There are quite a few features that guarantee success to the movement.

FEATURES.

The first will be the Executive Board which has been called by the president of the National Baptist Convention, in which all the officials will participate and make the program for the next National Convention, to meet June 9th.

Second, the opening of the Sunday-School Congress proper, which takes place at the Mount Olive Baptist Church, where in the evening the guests will be welcomed by the citizens to the city.

Third, the Missionary Conference, conducted by Rev. Wm. Beckham, in which all of the general, state and district missionaries will participate.

Fourth, the Educators' Conference. The presidents of universities, colleges, academies and principals of high schools will hold sessions in the afternoon of each day.

Fifth, Daily Conference for Sunday-schools.

Sixth, Primary Teachers' Conference.

Seventh, Advanced Teachers' Conference.

Eighth, Great overflow meeting on Sunday afternoon, which is universal Children's Day.

Ninth, music for the occasion. One hundred trained voices, under the skilled direction of Rev. N. H. Pius, D. D., National Chorister, of Springfield, Ohio, will furnish music for the occasion each day.

The entire city of Nashville will be out to welcome these religious workers. Distinguished speakers who have already consented to serve on the program, together with the workers who will discuss the thirty-six subjects of vital interest to the future of the Sunday-schools, will furnish six days of great interest and profitable instructions. Reduced rates on all railroads. Ask your ticket agent what the fare will be to Nashville on account of the Sunday-school Congress. See to this at once and then send in your name and address for a stopping place to REV. J. C. FIELDS, 523 Second Avenue, North, and send in the subject you are going to discuss to

OBITUARY.

Little Johnnie Reber Johnson, born February 4th, 1909, died May 22, 1909. She was three months, three weeks and two days old. She was only one of God's precious little jewels lent to the bereaved family just to gladden their hearts for a little while; but God in his wisdom has taken her again unto himself. Their loss is heaven's gain. The funeral services were attended at the residence, 1500 Hamilton street, at 2 p. m. by S. W. Womack.

There will be a district convention held at Bethlehem United Primitive Baptist Church on Porterfield street. The convention will last three days beginning May 28-30. ROGER WILLIAMS UNIVERSITY PRIDE OF NASHVILLE.

That Roger Williams University has always been an object of pride to the citizens of Nashville goes without saying. In Nashville she has had and still has sympathizers and well-wishers. This sympathy is now increased from a realization of the misfortunes that have come to her, and the untiring struggles she has undergone and is still undergoing in an effort to be re-established. What Roger Williams is to Nashville as an institution, the part she plays in the moral, social and intellectual uplift of our people in Nashville is inestimable. The citizens of Nashville, therefore, cannot nor will allow the work that has been begun there to stop. The Board of Trustees have done their work so far wisely and well. All the money on hand has been spent and unless the citizens of Nashville come to our rescue with $1,000 by May 30th, the work must stop.

The Board of Trustees of Roger Williams University, through their educational Secretary, are now making an appeal to the citizens of Nashville for help. They have erected on the campus of Roger Williams University a four-story brick dormitory for the girls, already costing $10,000. The building is not complete, but the walls are up and the top is on. They have been aided in the work by the Baptist Home Mission Society donating to us $2,500 for every $1,000 that we raised. Now they must have at least $1,000 by the 30th of May in order to keep the work in progress and they are now making their first appeal to Nashville for help. To this end a committee of twenty persons has been appointed to solicit subscriptions and collect money. We feel confident that Nashville will sustain her reputation and show her interest to Roger Williams by assisting the Board of Trustees and Educational Secretary and this Committee to raise the amount asked for.

Let every one contribute to this necessary effort as God hath prospered him.
